Show your Attitude: THOMAS SABO designs heritage-inspired Rebel at heart Autumn/Winter 2018 Collection

Lauf a. d. Pegnitz, 5 June, 2018 - Iconic designs, richness of detail and an exciting mix of materials – the Rebel at heart Autumn/Winter 2018 Collection pays tribute to expressive jewellery creations brought to life in a layering and stacking style, and is accompanied by an impressive expansion of the collection, rich in symbolism. The designs of the Autumn/Winter 2018 season make individually combinable rings, necklaces and bracelets a personal statement and emphasise the THOMAS SABO brand heritage more strongly than ever thanks to the extensive innovations: The focus is on blackened 925 Sterling silver, leather pieces and the brand's unique, expressive design.

The new Iconic Chains are intrinsically linked to the THOMAS SABO rebel look. Edgy elements give a piercing look to the wearer, and variations of popular THOMAS SABO necklaces and bracelets, with individual link elements and iconic clasps, create a modern look, dripping in attitude. As a highlight, elaborately hand-forged chain links create exclusive statement pieces, with each integrating different elements of the THOMAS SABO Rebel at heart design language into each segment.

The diverse facets of the Collection also include the enriching and exquisite Desert Sky lucky charms that reinterpret the silversmithing art and millennia-old mysticism of the Saharan nomads. Complemented by numerous iconic signet rings, leather straps, royal skull designs and watches, the elaborately designed Collection combines the unmistakable Rebel at heart DNA with a new, unconventional way of wearing jewellery.
